

WAVE'S END SERVICES, LLC

Web, Video, Printed Media Development & Support, IT Consulting

Scott Ross - IT Consultant

Scott Ross is President of Wave's End Services, LLC; a Web, Print, Video, and IT Consulting Services company. With ten-plus years as a small business owner and IT Consultant, Scott works with leaders and management teams to define objectives, develop strategy and deliver results.

As a Manager for Hewlett-Packard and Agilent Technologies for 20 years, Scott successfully led a wide variety of IT teams - from small local application development groups to global infrastructure deployment program teams.

Scott can help you:

- * Establish and Promote your Presence on the Web
- * Consolidate or Refresh Existing IT Services
- * Develop Strategic Plans and Budgets
- * Evaluate Outsourcing Alternatives
- * Select, Negotiate With, and Manage Vendors
- * Plan and Manage Projects
- * Build Local and Global Teams
- * Plan and Implement TQC & Six-Sigma Programs
- * Plan and Implement Acquisitions and Divestitures

Quotes from Wave's End Clients:

Client Web Site - "You are a God-send for me - it is so thankfully easy and helpful to have your team helping me"

Project Manager - "While this project was ugly right from the start with short notice requirements. Your team jumped right in and got things going. I could not have asked for a better team and I am proud all that you have accomplished. You have also done a great job of managing the budget."

Business Planning - "You have excellent communications and presentation skills, coupled with a strong business background to help in our financial planning and analysis."

Web Advertising - "You have tripled our (Google) Adwords responses for the same amount of money"

From HP / Agilent:

HP/Agilent Split - "Project status was 'Red' for three months prior your taking lead of the project team. Now, ten months later, it is 85% complete and ahead of schedule. This accelerated transition plan has resulted in several millions of dollars savings to Agilent's bottom line."

Global Team-Building - "Scott provides enthusiastic global team leadership. He goes out of his way to build a dispersed team into a coherent group - especially with Germany and AP (Singapore, India, Japan & China)."

Project Management Office - "You are creative and resourceful. When faced with constraints, you find ways to keep the project moving. You won't accept failure as an option!"

Contact Scott at Wave's End - Scott@WavesEndLLC.com or at 719-481-6180